Kentucky Legislature.

During its session, since its meeting after the holidays, the General Assembly has been attending to some business in a small way. They have been listening and waiting for something substantial to be heard from the Cincinnati people, on the railroad question—something that would meet the views of the members of the Legislature. It seems that Cincinnati have presented a charter, in which they ask for the right of way, and not to be governed in any particular by the Legislature in their freight or passenger tariff—that they may be permitted to charge what they please for passage or transportation—that they may be permitted to buy and sell and traffic in Coal, Iron, or any other merchantable articles, the same as individuals—and that they may be permitted to carry whom they please and what they please.

This last proposition would fill the bill for the most monstrous monopoly that ever existed. Every individual enterprise that came in conflict with it, would be destroyed in its inception, with a charter like the one above.

A Kentucky Legislature will never give them any such rights.

The people of the city of Cave City, have recently met with a sad misfortune, their homes having been torn to pieces and all utterly destroyed, and very many of the citizens killed, by a hurricane which swept over their country. It was certainly a heart-rending affair, and one which would fill the hardest heart with sorrow. The Legislature has donated $5,000 to these sufferers. This we consider all wrong, as the Legislature has no right to give away money which is wrung from the hard earnings of the people. We know of cases where families have been turned out of House and Home, to furnish means to fill the Treasury of the State and National Government, and if our State is so rich, and money is so plenty, that Legislators can reach their hands into their neighbors pockets and give away money which don't belong to them, it is high time that the people should call on this magnanimous Legislature to reduce the taxes now bearing so heavily upon them. If every person in the State, who has been unfortunate, and lost property, should be indemnified by the Legislature, how long would the money last? and we know of some just as deserving as the people of Cave City.

An act has passed both Houses of the Legislature changing the day for holding the city election, in Lexington, from first Saturday in March, to Thursday, February 3rd, and the officers elected to hold their offices for three years.

Hon. Jesse D. Bright.

Is a member of the Legislature from Carroll county, and a sprightly and able one he is, with an exact amount of contempt for radicals, and all the unconstitutional yankee scapegraces of the country. The other day some admirers of the "late lamented" Abraham Lincoln, who vegetate in Covington, Kentucky, asked the Legislature, to give them a charter for a lodge of Psalm-Singers, the name of which should be called "Abraham Lincoln Lodge." Before the Legislature granted it, we understand that Mr. Bright, arose in his place, and expressed his contempt for the name, and for those who asked a charter for an institution with such a name.

He done right. We applaud him for the act—for his honesty, for giving expression to truths; as nothing but truths could have fallen from his lips, if he said ought again to Lincoln, or his myrmidons. We admire the man, who opposes the radicals in everything, for we believe that there is no good in them—that they are as foul and black as Naaman, who was sent to dip his carcass seven times in the River Jordan. We want to see no passive opposition to a party that tramples everything good beneath their feet.

lucky, should honor Mr. Bright, in some significant manner, for his manliness in denouncing radical attempts to perpetuate a name as odious as that of Lincoln.

The sneers thrown at Mr. Bright, by the radical press, are quite laughable. It is already so low in the scale of decency, that anything which might be said against a gentleman, by such a negroizing crew, would be of more benefit than injury to him, in Kentucky.

Our Colored Republicans.

Since the radicals have commenced looking forward to the day, and have drawn so near to it, that they can almost give the date, when their "Beloved Brethren," of color should be invested with the rights of suffrage, and "vote," they have put on a sort of a "chicken cock" strut, and thrown up their heads as if they were about to crow—or they seem to look and doubtless they feel, very much like the old plantation nigger did, the first time he laid eyes on a yankee soldier—throwing his hoe away and stuffing his big hands down into his pantaloons, exclaimed very audibly—"Dats what do matter." If any rad feel elated in any degree, because of the fraudulent adoption (which we are informed will soon be declared so) of the XV. Amendment, in which the white man is degraded and the negro elevated, we say, don't in the least disturb that rad, for he is entitled to his full measure of happiness, if he can find any in attempting to pull up a slab sided nigger to an elevation with a white man. Such a rad should be encouraged in his rejoicing, but it is hoped that his face will turn as black as his heart.

We could never find guile enough in our heart to hate or misuse a decent negro—and we know of no white people in this State, who respect themselves, but that express pity for the forlorn and woe-begone condition into which they have been brought by yankee ignorance and stupidity—and while we feel as kindly towards them as we possibly can under the circumstances, we must assert that as we opposed the unholy and unconstitutional act of old Lincoln in making them free, and as we have opposed every proposition for their supposed elevation to citizenship and enfranchisement, believing as we do that there are but few, capable or qualified to exercise the rights which are proposed to be conferred upon them, we shall continue to oppose them, until the final triumph of true Democracy over radicalism.

We have been taught that this was a white man's government, and it was, until it fell into the hands of a revolutionary party, whose leaders have made plunder, and not principle, their main object.

When the XV. Amendment is declared a law, the negro will be permitted to vote, for any candidate of any party he pleases, and if he don't nominate to vote for the candidates nominated, he can nominate and vote for one of his own color. In this country there will be perhaps 250 negro voters, and the most of them are in this precinct. They are not strong enough to make any difference in the lowest or highest office in the gift of the people. There are in this State about 35,000 negro voters, not enough to effect its political status.

In several counties in the State, for instance, Fayette county, negroes and white radicals may be able to out number the Democracy, but while the Legislature is largely Democratic, the radicals may be certain that the Constitutional manner with which their Congress takes a man out of office, being a beautiful precedent, will never be forgotten.

So the radicals, with all the work which they have performed, and all the dirt they have eaten, to make the XV. amendment a law, for no other purpose than that of running it down the throats of the people of Kentucky, will not have nigger voters enough to give any of them a respectable office in the State. Excuse us for the exclamation—"two over-eggers and one poor nigger."

[For the Cynthiana News.]

Mr. Editor:—A correspondent of your paper in last week's issue wishes to be informed concerning the truth of a report, that petitions were being gotten up in this county, praying the Legislature, now in session, to disregard the verdict of the people, rendered at the late election, on the proposition to increase the "Common School revenue fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars in this State." From the inception of the agitation of this question, which was so triumphantly vindicated before the highest tribunal known to the State, I have observed somewhat minutely its progress and history, and taken a deep interest in its successful issue. If an effort from any quarter, since the discussion in August, has been made by its opponents to defeat the object of its provisions, I have not heard of it. The people of Kentucky, strangers to the tendencies of the modern revolutionary ideas of radicalism, are, by constitutional organization, a law-abiding people, and when the authoritative voice, recognized as the ultimate appeal, has spoken, they have ever manifested a willingness to acquiesce in the decision.

On the contrary, so far as I have heard any expressions, on the part of those unfavorable to the proposition, a disposition seems to be manifested to test the workings of the new system under the impulse given by the additional assessment, deemed by its friends ample to place the system on a solid and permanent basis.

Should the glowing results, promised by the adoption of the new system, fail to be realized, no one can call in question the fact, that the same power that has imposed the additional assessment, can reconsider its action, revoke its decrees, and proceed to institute such measures as, under the guidance of experience, may be deemed best calculated to promote the interests and welfare of the Commonwealth.

But whatever fears may be entertained by those who look with distrust upon universal popular education at the expense of the State, I do not share in their apprehensions. All that is asked in its behalf, is a fair trial; and under the auspices of the new regime, the fruits, growing out of the more general diffusion of the advantages and blessings of a more substantial intelligence throughout the State, will endeavor it to all the people, and none will be found to question its expediency, or undervalue its benefits.

Popular education, in its broadest sense, is the grand means of national progress and prosperity. If intelligence, combined with virtue, be indispensable to the well-being and perpetuity of free institutions, if the people be the sovereign power, and their will the law by which we must be governed, how does the great idea of a liberal and free education for all of our children rise up in magnitude and importance before us?

The education of the masses has demonstrated the great problem, that man is capable of self-government; it has developed the God-like attributes of man; and given him the control over the elements. It has brought to light the hidden wealth of the world, and made it contribute to the power, prosperity, and happiness of man. It has developed the intimate relations of man to man, nation to nation, and the means by which they may be united in peace and harmony, thus contributing to the moral elevation and happiness of the human race, and the honor and glory of Him, in whose image we were created. ## [For the Cynthiana News.]

Let them Run!

Is what we say in regard to those Steamboats, that we were told would plough furrows long and deep in Main Licking, as soon as the obstructions were taken out of the way. Progress has no even gait: sometimes she travels with "incredible speed," sometimes walks "leisurely on," sometimes "stops for her dinner," takes a sound nap when she dines," and comes up behind at the end of the race.

Last Winter and Spring the papers in this and adjacent counties, seemed burdened with communications from men of spirit and enterprise, jubilant over the passage of the Licking River Appropriation Bill. A new era had indeed forced itself upon us. Capital has waked up from an age of rest and sleep, to interest itself in our behalf. It is watchful eye, looking out through gold-trimmed specs, had long gazed in the direction from whence all these waters come; and now that the State had lent a helping hand, in the little sum of seventy five thousand dollars, it, too, was ready to empty its lap, and drain its coffers into the heap collected, solely for the benefit of the poor section of country lying on Licking River, and to replenish the hollow vaults in the State Treasury; the latter to be effected by the increase of revenue accruing to the State, from increased value of lands bordering on the river. Boatmen, were anxious 'twas said to prove to ignorant rustics the capacity of the river for navigation. Old women refused to sell eggs at ten cents any longer; every thing of a marketable "water," from possum pelts to gin-seed, rags and feathers were held at exorbitant prices, and one old lady, remarkable for economical characteristics, is said to have kept one and one half dozen till they spoiled on her hands. Frail human nature how credulous! But at length the river—"rizz." The people looked and looked in vain, for the Iron Horse with his life preservers on to come up the river—somehow he concluded to make tracks in other directions; he didn't come. Some persons are ever ready to engage in new enterprises, cost what it may, kill whom it might; and so in this case. Some had cut their last stick of wool; well satisfied that coal, delivered on the river's bank, at five or seven cents is cheaper than to cut wool with which to make fires.

Every little village on the pleasant banks of the Licking must assume an air of commercial importance. Inland cities, such as Cynthiana, Paris and Lexington, must look to these as shipping points. But up to this date, (January 25th.) no Wild Wagoner, Champion No. 1, nor Great Republic, has made a trip to the wild Mountains of Kentucky; still Cynthiana, Lexington and Paris, must resort to the K. C. R. R., for transportation of coal, &c.

JAFENEM.

Irritable Invalids.
Indigestion not only effects the physical health but the dispositions and tempers of its victims. The dyspeptic becomes too in a measure demoralized by his sufferings. He is subject to fits of irritation, sulphuriness, or despair, as the case may be. A preternatural sensitiveness which he cannot control, leads him to misconstrue the words and acts of those around him, and his intercourse even with those nearest and dearest to him is not unfrequently marked by exhibitions of testiness foreign to his real nature. These are the mental phenomena of the disease, for which the invalid cannot be justly held responsible, but they occasion much household discomfort. It is the interest of the household, it is the interest of the principal sufferer from a state not far removed from insipient insanity, to see these symptoms of mental disturbance promptly removed. This can only be done by restoring the physical health, and rearranging the functions of the stomach and its allied viscera, the liver and the bowels. Upon these three important organs, hostetter's stomach bitters are singularly efficacious, producing a thorough and salutary change in their condition. The vegetable ingredients of which the preparation is composed, are of a renovating, regulating, and alterative character, and the stimulant, which lends activity to their remedial virtues is the purest and best that can be extracted from the most wholesome of all vegetables, viz. sound rye. No dyspeptic can take this genial restorative too single week without experiencing a notable improvement in his general health. Not only will his bodily sufferings abate from day to day, but he will find himself freed from all restlessness and irritability, and this happy change will manifest itself in his demeanor to all around him.

February 3, 1870—Imo.

Who Will Be Cured?

A LARGE majority of diseases are caused by a disordered stomach, and all those who have Dyspepsia, or any disorder of the stomach, or ailments of the bowels, can very short time, and at a trifling cost, can do so by sending One Dollar, to Dr. W. P. Brewster, Elkton, Todd county, Ky., and he will send them the necessary instructions by return mail. It should be remembered that Indigestion and all nervous affections are caused by a disordered stomach. December 23, 1869—2mo.

Ten Dollars Reward.

Ten dollars reward will be given to the man who found that Berkshire Pig. He was the property of Geo. Williams, and a pig of the masculine gender. He returned home the other day slightly disfigured, but still in the ring—and still he's a pig without a gender.

Lecture.

The Fat Contributor, will deliver his celebrated Lecture on Injun Meal, at Reueker's Hall to night. He has the reputation of being the best Humorous Lecturer in this country, and we would advise every one to go and hear him. Seats can be secured at J. J. Goods.

In Bourbon county, last Sunday morning, Maj. G. W. Williams, aged 68 years and four months. He was a clever man in all respects except his radicalism.

Very Sick.

Chicken Fighting.

The Harrison people, and Bourbon people have made another main in which 92 chickens will fight, on 10th inst., at Paris. The Bourbons will go under this heat.

Miscegenation.

The latest sensation in Bracken county, is a mongrel runaway match, the groom is colored, the bride unfortunately white. How do you like it Mr. Rads, of Bracken.

Revival.

We understand that a revival is going on in the M. E. Church, (South) at Oddville, in this county. Thirty-eight have united with the church.

Sent to the Asylum.

Mr. Jack Patterson, an old citizen of Scott county, was before the Court on Wednesday last, and adjudged of unsound mind. He was sent to the Asylum at Lexington.

Protestant Episcopal Church.

We are informed, that since the Rev. Walter Yearne, took charge of the Episcopal Church in this city, that some four or five additions have been made, and that too of the best and among the most substantial citizens. We are pleased to hear of his success. A new and splendid bell was swung in the cupola of this church last week. It is the largest and loudest in town, and its merry jingle is heard far above all the others. It weighs 843 pounds, and cost $325.

Destroyed by fire.

On Friday last the residence of John H. Shawhan, situated about one mile above Braddwell's cross roads, in this county, was entirely destroyed by fire, together with the largest part of his furniture. Loss $2000.

Personal.

Mr. Jno. Megibben has gone down to Memphis, Tennessee.

Col. Zeb Ward was in Cynthiana yesterday.

Capt. J. H. Lair, of Covington, called to see us.

Dr. N. C. Dilly was in Cynthiana last week. He says that the Legislature of Kentucky will grant a Railroad charter to Cincinnati, when those people fix one up with proper restrictions.

A Meeting of the Executive committee of the Distillers of Kentucky met at this city last Tuesday. The following named gentlemen were present:—Sam Clay, J. H. Shropshire, J. L. Crissell, and Maj. Thomas, Lexington; J. H. Gray, H. E. Shawhan, T. J. Megibben, of Harrison.

Mules.

Last Friday Mr. Bush Hart, of Leesburg passed through this town with a car load of mules which he had purchased in Cincinnati at $175 per head. They were broken and in good condition. We understand they are intended for the Alabama market.

Mr. D. W. Bayles, from the Georgia R. R. and Flint River, reports the market as closing very heavy, with thousands offering and prospects fair for a big crash in prices.

Everybody.

Who wants good and substantial clothing boys of Rose & Broth.

Everybody goes to Rose & Broth's Clothing Store, because they sell cheap.

Everybody is acquainted with Rose & Broth, for they sell for cash, and pay cash.

Died.

Judge Lewis Collins of Maysville, Kentucky, died at Lexington, on Saturday evening after a short illness. He was editor of the Washington (Ky.) Union, and of the Maysville Eagle for 35 years. He was the author of "Historical Sketches of Kentucky," was Judge of Mason county, for four years, and an elder of the Presbyterian Church nearly 40 years.

A Valuable Team.

Mr. James T. Nichols, one among the best men to handle horses in Kentucky, has a fancy pair which in the judgement of horsemen from all sections of this country, is among the fastest and finest in the State.

"Gen. Boswell" is a splendid Gray, up-headed, active and full of that fire and spirit common to all good conditioned animals. He moves as the wind, and halts when ordered to stop.

"Walker Thornton," is a Buckskin in color—full of life, and can walk twelve miles an hour. He is every thing that is needed to make himself agreeable to those who may have need for a live horse. We direct the attention of horse dealers, &c., to this team.

"Hard Times."

We occasionally hear a man in business, in Cynthiana, asserting that "Dull Times" have come upon us—that money is scarce—"business is dull" &c., but we never hear such an exclamation from the men who advertise. When times are dull, they make business brisk by increasing their advertising. A man might just as well close up his house, or do business up in a "Balloon," as not to advertise.

The Weather.

The Sun shown bright yesterday.

A Serenade.

We neglected to acknowledge in our last issue, the splendid Serenade given us on Tuesday night, 25th of January, 1870. Everything was cool and quiet, that night, with the exception of an occasional moan of the doleful wind sweeping around the corner of the building, or rushing through the dry boughs of trees near by—in fact so cold, that when we fell asleep we dreamed of the wintry nights we passed through during the struggle which our people recently made for republican independence and religious liberty, against the vandals of the North, when we were brought to a wide awake state by the sweet flowing strains of music from a String Band directly under our window.

"It rose, that charmed mournful strain, Like some lone spirit over the plain: 'Twas musical, but sadly sweet, Such as when winds and fife-strings meet. And take a long unmeasured tone, To mortal minstrelsy unknown."

Our better-half and ourself return thanks to our friend Mc., and his comrades for the music.

Birthday Party.

The only daughter of our respected friend J. A. Cook, of this city, who has just finished a residence near the city of palatial proportions, and exceedingly beautiful in style, gave her little friends a party on the 25th ult. It was her birthday, and the young Masters and Misses of the city, enjoyed themselves exceedingly. We do not remember to have ever met so many well behaved little folks before.

Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia.

The ancient desired "look busy and black as the raven" as one of the perfections of manhood and tresses long, silken and lustrous, as the crowning glory of womanhood, but "Time, the sly old dog, drew his fingers through their hair, and left "His MARK" in white. Time is now baffled by those who use Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia, the greatest and most reliable Hair Restorative of modern times.

For sale at Renaker's Drug Store Cynthiana, Ky.

Great Fall.

Covingtonians can rejoice in the fact that they are no longer paying war-prices for fuel. We understand that Messrs. Bick & Phillips are selling Coal and Youghioheny at $3.50, and Pomeroy or Ohio River at $3 per load.

Sedentary Habits.

There is no class of the community more subject to disease of the digestive organs than those whose business compels them to be continually within doors, either seated at a desk, or standing behind a counter. Rootland's German Bitters will prove a true blessing to these persons, and enable them to fulfil the duties of their station with a spirit and alacrity unknown to them before. These Bitters can be had of any Druggist. They are not a substitute for whisky.

Confederate Money.

"Saves the Petersburg (Va.) Index:—We understand that orders have recently been received by parties in Petersburg for the purchase of Confederate money of a date anterior to 1864. Doubtless these orders can easily be filled if the persons holding them will only let the fact be known. There are many in our midst who, at the termination of the war, were caught with more or less Confederate money on their hands, and we suppose they have some still left. Whether for curiosity or for the sake of old times, or with the hope of ultimate redemption, we do not know, but a few thousands or millions are stowed away here."

Dedicator Service.

A Baptist House of Worship having been recently erected, at Catawba Station, K. C. R. R., it was yesterday, (30th of January, 1870,) that it was dedicated for the service of God. In connection with the surrounding neighborhood of Catawba, an extra train ran to this point from Falmouth, and conveyed quite a crowd of persons, (not perhaps exceeding one hundred,) to witness and enjoy the services of the day. After the dedicatory services, which consisted in singing, reading and prayer, the Sermon for this occasion was delivered by the Rev. Harry Spillman, of Dayton, Ky. After which a collection was taken, which amounted to $350, which about covered the debt. After the collection, the crowd, numbering about five hundred, partook of quite a nice dinner prepared for the occasion. The day was quite a pleasant one, and was highly enjoyed. A series of meetings, following the dedication will be held this week, and have opened with some interest, three having joined last night.

Respectfully, J. N. BARBER.

Berryville, Jan. 31, 1870.

A Card.

A candidate wants the day of the Primary Election changed. It is too late to discuss that question now. The matter is settled. We give below the card, &c.:

Mr. A. J. MOREY:—Having canvassed a large portion of the county, I find a large majority of the farmers concur in the opinion, that the Primary election to be held on the first Saturday in April, to be at least one month too late in the season, it being nearly corn planting, when farmers are very busy, and a great many will not stop their work to go to the election, and I wish through your paper to call the attention of the County Committee to this fact, and hope they will change the election to the first Saturday in March, instead of April, knowing that it will be satisfactory to at least seven-eighths of the candidates, and more convenient to all the farmers.

A CANDIDATE.

The only Reliable Cure for Dyspepsia in the known World.

DR. WISHART'S GREEN AMERICAN DYSPEPSIA PILLS and PINE TREE CORRAL are a positive and reliable cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it root and branch forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desparate and hopeless cases. Twelve every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of dyspepsia can resist their penetrating power.

DR. WISHART'S
PINE TREE TAR CORRAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its best medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and exerts upon the system the corruption which accolates breaks on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus of phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle is a tonic to the system, and it is noted for relieving pain and soothing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experience, and it is noted for its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

Coughs of the Lungs, Cough, Sore
Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver

Complaint, Bilious and Bleeding
Cough, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office patrons. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public

FREE OF CHARGE.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country,
asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient remittances should be made by check or draft.
